Galatians Winter Youth Workshop

(December 28-January 1)

Camp Pearl, Reeves, LA

I definitely enjoyed the workshop. It was my first DM2 conference and I loved it! It was not only a great opportunity to learn more about God and his word but also to meet and bond with some awesome people. On New Year's Eve we all went around sharing the ups and downs of our life, and as soon as it turned midnight we took turns praying to open the New Year, enjoying communion with God and each other. I now am part of a prayer group with those people! God definitely used the conference to open up some amazing opportunities/friendships for me.

One thing that stood out to me was how God, through the Apostle Paul, took the clarity of the gospel so seriously. Today everywhere you turn you'll encounter people who will question if it's really necessary to distinguish between clear and unclear gospel messages. The Bible teaches that yes, it is necessary, because a gospel that is any other than the one presented in the Bible is "really not another," as explained in Galatians 1:7. Any distortion of that message is a false message that could lead someone to eternal death.

Also, one of the teachers made the point that every single believer is a living miracle. In Galatians 3:5 Paul asks the Galatians, "Does He who provides you with the Spirit and works miracles among you, do it by works of the Law, or by hearing with faith?" None of us could be saved through any effort of our own, but Christ came to earth and died on the cross for our sins to pay the debt that we couldn't pay and then He rose from the dead victorious. As those who have believed that message, we are a living miracle pointing back to God's amazing love for us, and we have the opportunity every day of our lives to be living testaments to that wondrous truth.

I was also blessed by one of the attendees who shared that through the study of Galatians they grew in their understanding of who God is. Previously, because of what others had told them, they misunderstood God's intentions and thought He was harsh. But by taking a look at God's word, they could now see for themselves that God's love and care is evident - even in the fact that He takes sin seriously.

The Galatians workshop was such a refreshing way to bring in the New Year. Not only does Galatians focus heavily on the lack of power legalism has to save a person from Hell, power that only Jesus has, it also focuses on how legalism cannot make God's children holy. Having that reorientation in my mind from self-effort to Jesus Christ has been such a help to me in starting off the New Year strong. I've really enjoyed Jesus' guidance in this new year!

It was refreshing to be taught by young believers during our annual winter workshop on the book of Galatians. The truths of the gospel, eternal security, sanctification by God's grace, and living the Christian life by faith never get old. It was extremely encouraging to see the growth in conference attendees, specifically the teachers. It was great to reconnect with a variety of friends from all over and be reminded that God is actively working in each of our lives as we present ourselves to Him by faith. Both salvation from the presence of sin and salvation from the power of sin are His work from start to finish, and to add legalism to the equation does not help, but rather hinders, our spiritual progress.
