What God is Doing

By: Bret Nazworth

A man's heart devises his way: but the LORD directs his steps.

When things seem to whirl out of control it is always good to remember that God is in control.

In less than a week, DM2 will be hosting its first workshop in America. We have guests coming from Africa, Bolivia, and several states here in the U.S.A. Together with Pleroma Bible Church, we are excitedly putting together the last minute details.

In the midst of preparing for this conference, I am getting invitations and pleas from other countries to teach pastors and leaders.

After our recent visit to Chile, we received a formal invitation from one of the pastors to start workshops there.

Two days ago, I received a plea from a pastor in India to come teach pastors in that country.

Also, we are in the process of working out the details to begin a work in North Africa.

At the same time, we are making preparations for two trips in May and June.

The field director in Africa, Michael Turay, is presently teaching in Romania. When he returns, he will be scurrying around completing preparations for the DM2 May workshop in Sierra Leone. The plan is for John Clark, Robert Ferow, and me to teach 50 – 60 leaders.

Two weeks after I return from Africa, we will be off to Bolivia to teach the Panorama of the Old Testament curriculum.

A whirlwind of events is happening in Bolivia. Just today our field director, Roberto Morales, informed us that this week six teachers are giving a workshop in the small village of Pampa Grande. Another missionary, John Wry, shared that last night he “nailed down” a workshop for the month of August with Swiss missionaries from the town of San Ignacio de Moxos. According to John, these missionaries were so excited they were almost “hitting the roof” with excitement. Then, just a few days ago, we learned that from April 5 – 9 there will be two conferences taught simultaneously in Monteagudo: One in Spanish and another in a tribal dialect. We also learned through an email that Javier, a DM2 trainee, is going into Argentina to teach a workshop on the book of Revelation. His hope is that this workshop will lead to a DM2 disciple-making program in Argentina.

In May, our first DM2 missionaries, Ryan and Carissa Robinson, will be heading to Bolivia for a year. Besides learning language, they will be teaching and ministering to disciple-makers there.

As you might expect, keeping up with all this is exhausting. It reminds me of what Paul said when speaking of making-disciples... (Christ...) whom we preach, warning every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom; that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus: Whereunto I also labor (κοπιῶ - toil to the point of exhaustion), striving (ἀγωνιζόμενος – laboring fervently, fighting vigorously) according to his working, which works in me mightily. Co 1:28-29

Four men — Four letters — Four countries – Four challenges

It is a pleasure to write to you, Brother Bret. I pray to the Lord that He is giving you spiritual support, joy in your family life, and also health.

I want to ask you to remember to pray for me. This Thursday I will travel to Salta, Argentina in order to teach part of the book of Revelation. This is the first time I will be giving that study, and it is in both a conference and a church I do not know. I start this Thursday and finish the 8th. I thank God for this great opportunity; I feel the weight of the responsibility, but the Lord is teaching me. And yet I feel fragile and deficient. My only resource is the prayer of faith and the support of my brothers in Christ. I appreciate so much your help. The computer has been of much help and once again, thanks. Pray also, since my desire is to share with some of the leaders about the Romans study that we do and the possibility of starting the program there with them in that area. I do not know much concerning the state of the churches there, but I will see if God opens up a door for us. Until another opportunity, greet everyone.

Javier Bladviezo.

Pastor Bret,

As a church, we always held the belief that we were under grace, but it was something that we only knew as information. The actual truth is that we were not living under grace. As a result, we were depriving ourselves of the opportunity to enjoy to the full what we really have in Christ Jesus.

The difference is abysmal - to cross over from only knowing about grace to living in grace. As those already saved, the ability to present our bodies day by day to Christ is what it means to live by the Spirit. To be able to see God produce good in us who are so naturally bad is nothing short of miraculous.

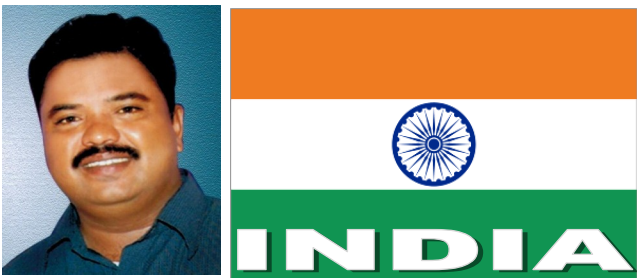

The studies of Romans are such a blessing to our church. We are teaching them for a second time in the men's adult class. Also, we have implemented the same study each Sunday for kids 12 years old and up. All that said to say, that in the church all folks ages 12 and up are studying the Romans lessons. Presently, we are focused on Romans 6:11. We thank the Lord that all of our Sunday School teachers had the privilege of going through the Romans seminar that was held in Los Negros.

On a different note, we have created a manual called "The Gospel of Grace" that we have used to disciple new converts and legalistic believers who are resistant to living by grace. The results are life impacting, since the Gospel is the power of God that not only changes the destiny of people, but also their lives.

There are many more things I could share as to how lives have been impacted-especially mine. I am only now beginning to enjoy all that I have because of my position in Christ. Really, there is nothing to report as if coming from me because I am merely an instrument. God is taking out of me what is not useful for His service.

Thanks for being an instrument in the hands of the Lord. Onward with the teaching of grace, even if only a few desire to hear it! Please keep presenting yourself to the Lord daily.

Pastor Mark Musser spoke to you of our ministry here in India. India has a population of over one billion. Christianity is only 2.3 percent, yet discipleship is 0 percent. The people here are idolatrous and superstitious. There are millions of false gods and goddesses. Millions of precious souls are perishing without Christ. They are destined for eternal hell, and yet God desires all men to be saved and to come to the knowledge of the truth (1 Tim. 2:4). India needs people of God like you... so that it might turn to the one true God from the millions of false gods. Therefore, I want you to please visit India... If we work together, we can train pastors, teachers, and leaders in the highly effective manner, and make disciples to win many people from India for Christ.

We all hope and pray that God will bless us and our people through your visit. We all believe that God will deliver many people from their bondage of slavery to sin and Satan, and more than ever grow in the grace and knowledge of God through your ministry. We know that God is going to use you as tremendous instrument in His mighty power. Here many people are waiting for your visit. Please pray about this, and let me know when you would like to come and how many days you would stay with us in India. If you let me know, I will arrange the program. We are praying that the Lord will bring you soon. I whole-heartedly invite you to India. Please take a kind step to lift me up as your fellow brother in India. I wish to have your leadership and guidance. I will sincerely follow your instructions to develop God's work in India. I await your kind and favorable response.

Pastor John and Esther

Dear Bret,

I shared today with the pastors of Osorno (about the DM2 training) and even though they were not all there, there was still a majority in attendance. They thought that the training was good and very interesting and as a result of our discussion a few questions arose.

1. What would you expect from the students?
2. Would you (the professors) need some sort of offering?

Since, in the town of Temuco, there is the possibility of having a workshop, the pastors here thought the idea of bringing together the project for the pastors from both cities would be good. There is a place in the area of Metrenco that is very adequate for getting together, and when that was mentioned there was a positive agreement on the idea, since the participants could pull away from their daily activities in order to attend. So, in general, there was a very good acceptance on the part of the pastors here of the idea of training.

What I told the pastors is that the national organizers here would be responsible to give the food and housing to be covered by charging a fee from each of the participants.

My greetings and attention,

Carlos Martinez
